

POLICY

STUDENT WELLBEING & RESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOUR

Corporal Punishment is not permitted at Huntingtower

Rationale

All students have the right to receive a quality education, provided in a safe, caring and supportive environment. At Huntingtower, we work in partnership with parents to help our students to become thoughtful, happy and resilient individuals who love learning and find their schooling stimulating and challenging.

Our learning community aims to:

- Provide an opportunity for all students to reach their learning potential
- Ensure the safety of staff and students
- Promote student and staff wellbeing
- Foster confidence, responsibility and self-discipline
- Assist students who may exhibit challenging behaviours to accept responsibility for themselves and their actions
- Provide a social framework allowing every student to learn and succeed
- Cultivate clearly articulated and reinforced core values on which communication and behaviour is based
- Provide a number of key programs and strategies to support the development of resilience, independence and self-discipline.

Philosophy

Showing kindness towards self and others is central to the Huntingtower school culture. Recognising the unlimited potential of every child, we focus on everyone's spiritual nature as a reflection of Love. Our students come from a diverse range of backgrounds and all bring with them a desire to learn, to contribute to their community and to give to the world.

Our environment is one that encourages excellence at every step and in every endeavour. We identify in students their unlimited ability as expressions of divine Mind; they all have infinite intelligence. The school aims to reinforce positive behaviours by encouraging a growth mind set in staff and students. The expression 'You get more of what you expect' is at the core of behaviour management.

Core Values

The school's endeavour is that students should be able to:

- Learn without distraction or interference from others
- Work in a safe environment
- Feel safe from harassment, bullying and discrimination
- Be shown respect by their peers and school personnel
- Be empowered to take responsibility for their behaviour and progress

The school's core values of kindness, optimism and unlimited potential form the cornerstone of the positive relationships forged amongst students and teaching staff at all levels within the school. These values also provide the foundation for the kind of responsible behaviour expected of our students when at school and when representing the school and in the wider community.

Wellbeing Framework

The school's wellbeing framework includes the following areas of activity where the school aims to offer wellbeing support for our students.

- Prevention
 - The majority of our work should occur in the prevention area, as this reduces the demand required in the other areas
 - The Child Safe Standards are also aligned with the prevention area, as they guide hiring procedures and encourage protective behaviour education, which try to shield a child from sexual assault/abuse/harassment
 - All of the mindfulness, gratitude, and empathy education we provide students also falls within the prevention area
 - All of these programs aim to empower the students, to learn to protect themselves, advocate for themselves and know when to seek assistance
- Early Intervention
 - Aim is to identify and target at risk individuals as early as possible to minimise problems or disruptions
 - Aim is to ensure the provision of support for individuals at crisis point so that they can regain confidence, reduce impact, and avoid any disruption to their schooling
 - What is needed?
 - Clear referral procedures (both internal and external referrals)
 - Ensure care and consistent approach across all wellbeing situations
 - Clear communication between all relevant stakeholders
 - Clear notetaking/documentation
 - Yearly staff training in Mandatory Reporting, the Reportable Conduct Scheme, Duty of Care (including, but not limited to, understanding the balancing of the Privacy Act v's Duty of Care responsibilities)
- Restore Wellbeing
 - Aim is to manage incident/issues and limit impact so that those affected by incidents or crisis are supported to minimise risk and promote improved health and wellbeing
 - Teachers should be trained in best practice approaches
 - Our evacuation and lockdown procedures/drills are part of this area, as they are designed to limit the impact of possible events

Teachers have a responsibility to:

- teach according to the prescribed Huntingtower curriculum, employing effective pedagogy and a variety of teaching methods

Responses to Inappropriate Behaviour - Secondary School (See Guidelines for full response)

Students are encouraged always to strive by exercising self-discipline, respecting the rights of others, and taking responsibility for their own actions.

When behaviour is inappropriate, the school responds by directly addressing the behaviour with the student concerned and, if appropriate, with the parent.

Students are entitled to procedural fairness. This means that where concerns about inappropriate student behaviour are identified, a student will be given an opportunity to respond to those concerns before a decision has been made that the behaviour occurred (and consequences should follow). Ordinarily this opportunity will be provided in person when the concerns are raised with the student and may occur at the time the behaviour is observed. In some cases, the school may decide to give the student time to consider the concerns and provide a response at a later date (either in person or in writing, at the school's discretion).

Responses to inappropriate student behaviour are applied with the following in mind:

- Responses will be determined by the nature of the inappropriate behaviour and the context in which it occurred
- Responses should be consistent in application
- Responses should be sensitive to any special circumstances
- Responses should address any harm done, and work to restore positive relationships wherever possible, which in some cases may result in restorative practices being emphasised instead of discipline

Responses to Inappropriate Behaviour - Junior School (See Guidelines for full response)

Junior School students at Huntingtower are encouraged to develop self-discipline, demonstrate respect for the rights of others, and take responsibility for their own actions.

When behaviour is inappropriate, the school responds by directly addressing the behaviour with the student concerned and, if appropriate, with the student's parents. Students in the Junior School are also entitled to procedural fairness.

Responses to inappropriate student behaviour are applied with the following additional considerations for Junior School students:

- Try to correct inappropriate behaviours with affirmation of the correct behaviours
- Encourage students to reflect on poor behaviours, and consider the ways they can be reversed
- Encourage students to employ the positive strategies discussed in assemblies, classes and special programs in relationships with others
- Deal immediately with unkind behaviour, and help students to distinguish between isolated incidents and repeated unkind behaviour, with a resolution in mind

Procedures for suspension, expulsion and exclusion

The Principal reserves the right to suspend or expel a student who is engaged in repeated inappropriate behaviour, or who engages in serious inappropriate behaviour inconsistent with the school's values (or obligations to protect the health and wellbeing of the school's staff and students).

Ordinarily, the Principal will only exercise this right after giving the student and the student's parents an opportunity to respond to the school's concerns about the student's behaviour, and the consequences that should follow. However, in certain cases the Principal may temporarily suspend a student while that opportunity is being afforded.

A decision by the Principal to suspend, expel or exclude a student from the school can be appealed by the student's parent(s) to the Board. Any appeal should be made in writing within 7 days of the Principal's decision, emailed to the Principal's Executive Assistant and addressed for the attention of the Board.

Communication

Parents will be informed about any formal consequences applied in respect of their child's inappropriate behavior. Where considered appropriate by the school, such as where expulsion is being considered, parents will be invited to attend a meeting with their child and the school before decisions are made.

The student diary is signed daily by parents of students in the Junior School. It is a significant form of communication to parents about issues which the school feels need to be brought to their attention.

This Policy is available to staff, parents and students and the school community via the school's website.

In addition, relevant aspects of this Policy will be raised at staff and student meetings and highlighted in Bulletins and newsletters.
